If a sufficient number of shipyard workers living in Santa Ana and Orange can be secured to justify it, the Pacific Electric will run a special shipyard car daily between Santa Ana and Long Beach.

W. J. Julian of Santa Ana, a shipyard worker, is trying to secure a sufficient number of workers to get the service started. A number of Orange and Santa Ana men are now working in the shipyards and living at Long Beach. Julian says that they could live more cheaply here and pay carfare. The fare offered is a 40 ride ticket for $13.40. Cars would go directly to the shipyards.

Julian's telephone number is 668-M. Santa Ana. He desires to get touch with shipyard workers here.

Mothers, you are all glad to see us: You will greet us with smile and cheer, But some will not be coming-They are sleeping far from here.

So we will comfort the lonely mother, Bring joy to the sorrowing heart; Thank God that He safely kept us While He let us do our part.

Still Very Much Alive

People look at Chillie Swanneryou see, they used to call Lieutenant Charles D. Swanner a cold name like that-and tell him he doesn't look anywhere near dead. And he isn't either. He can kick around as lively as any lieutenant should, and his appetite-he has a real soldier's desire for quantity as well as quality.

Chillie wrote home a joke one day when, over in France, he was feeling in a jocular mood. The trouble was that when that letter got to Santa Ana it didn't carry a photograph of the lieutenant's humorous smile along with it, and the fact that he was joking wasn't as plain as he had intended it should be. He had said something about being out of the hospital, and wouldn't it have been funny if he had had to come home and go out to Arizona to live along with the horntoads and rattle snakes. He wrote something like that, and by the time it was received, digested and talked over over here, the lieutenant's health Members of the wealthy class have suffered a relapse that he never heard resolved to tarry in Budapest and of. IR OWN HO

Every man should try to own his own home. There is great satisfaction in being an owner rather than a renter, and there is nothing that pays bigger profits on the investment than a home. Convert your rent money into payments on your own home. A small amount invested each month will quickly make you independent and put you on "Easy Street." Buy a lot for your future home now. It is the most sensible thing you can do with your money—the safest and most profitable.

If you already have a lot, then start building now. Every family should have a home it can call its own. It will be better for your wife, your chidren and yourself. Furthermore, your wife is bound to take more interest and pleasure in a home that she really owns than in one she merely rents. It's a duty you owe her-to provide her with a home of her very own.

Building Wages Are Not High

Wages in the building trades have advanced the least of any of the skilled trades. In the "general commodities" field wages have advanced 94 per cent while in the "building" field they have advanced only 28.5 per cent. Building wages cannot recede. Their tendency will be to advance as labor surpluses are gradually absorbed. Common sense says "Build Now" while wages, real estate and building material are not high.

Building Boom Is On

The demon of world destruction is dethroned. Business—throbbing, pulsing eager—has taken on new life in every section of the United States, with the exception of territories which had a bad crop last year or the year before. Building restrictions are off, and building materials of every sort have been on the move and labor has already erected thousands of homes throughout this Building material merchants are very optimistic. All over the country the more prominent cities and towns, including our own beloved city of Santa Ana, have organized "Own Your Own Home" campaigns, and the Government itself has been carrying on a propaganda which has induced construction all over the Building material is not high, as was proven in the last building page run in the Register last week—only an average of 23 per cent on all kinds of lumber, not including redwood, which forms a very small percentage of building material in California, and this percentage of increase is made on comparison of prevailing prices before the war, April, 1914, and prevailing prices this April, 1919.

The Following Firms Are Ready to Help You and Explain Their Facilities. Their Judgment Will Help You Solve Your "Own Your Own Home" Problem.

Prices and Wages Cannot Fall

Authorities agree that, owing to tremendous expansion of money and credits and to the billions loaned by America, lower price levels are impossible for many years to come. So now is the time to build and stave off Bolshevism. "The red flag never floats above the hearth." Every building contract increases pay rolls and the nation's spending power, insuring general prosperity and combating spread of Bolshe-

Building Materials Quotations Not Likely to Be Lower

There has been an impression among contractors and builders, as well as among consumers, that there would be a decided reduction in the price of building material, and as spring is now well advanced, the public in general appreciates that there will be no marked reduction in the price of any commodity so long as the present wage scale keeps up. This viewpoint is well substantiated by the fact that not only is there a scarcity in housing facilities throughout the United States, but there is a big demand abroad for rebuilding the vast devastated regions of war-swept Europe. The devastated area in France alone covers approximately six thousand square miles, about two per cent of France, with a total population of nearly two million people. This is about the combined area of Connecticut and Rhode Island. In France, half a million buildings have been destroyed or damaged. And over this area the timber on a million two hundred thousand acres of forest has been destroyed. The total damage in northern France is placed at $13,000,000,000 while that of Belgium is by no means small. Immense quantities of raw material and manufactured articles will be required in the rehabilitation of these devastated regions. The French government has already bought or has asked for bids that will tax some of our big exporting firms to fill. The work has only begun and building materials will flow into France and Belgium for many months to come. The above is sufficient to allay any expectation for any drop in the prices of building ma-

Invest In Real Estate

The return to peace, prosperity and the pursuit of happiness needs no safer, surer barometer than the real estate activity of a community. That there is wonderful activity in real estate in Orange county is indicated by the large number of transfers that were handled by the Orange County Title Company and the Abstract & Title Guarantee Company during the past month. And real estate is no higher in most instances now than before the war. So real estate has come into its own once more.

Those plans you've had in mind for some time, those preparations that the war forced you to sidetrack, should be brought forward and materialized. Now, right now, is the time to renew them and give them the attention they deserve. The wheels of industry are awhirl, the buzz of business is prevalent on every side, and you as a shrewd investor should realize that now is the time to buy a site for a new home and start building right now. Such an investment will kindle a new flame of devotion and inspire a vastly increased feeling of domestic bliss. A home of your own will heighten the joy of living.

These refrigerators are made of the best quality kiln dried ash lumber. They are built on a strong frame, which is covered on one side with heavy non-conducting sheathing, and the other with two thicknesses of heavy insulating sheathing. This, with inside wooden wall, outside case and liming, give six good insulating surfaces and a big dead air space. Every joint and nail in the frame is covered. By this method of construction we secure perfect, air tight, dead air spaces between the walls. Dead air is conceded to be the best non-conductor of heat or cold, and as we use no charcoal or other filling, the walls do not bulge or swell. Publicity Makes Big Increase In Visitors To Catalina Island

LOS ANGELES, April 21 .- The remarkable effects of the advertisement Saturday when David Blankenhorn, submarines. president of the Santa Catalina Island Company, announced that the number How to Interest Women in Civic of passengers carried to Avalon for onditions and Train Them for Civic the week just ended was more than twice as great as during the corre-"How to Reach Young Mrs. -- 's sponding period last year.

The occasion of the announcement was a luncheon at the Alexandria, where a number of newspaper men met John D. Cole, new publicity manager of the company. Mr. Cole was formerly publicity representative of a big New York mail order house. He left that position to become a captain in the army. He will make his head-quarters in Los Angeles and tell the world from here how wonderful Catalina is and why everyone should visit the gem of the Pacific.

Mr. Blankenhorn, who was the host, stated that Mr. Wrigley will be here the latter part of the week and will spend all of the time of his visit at given a number of Orange county men ing. The men will parade and be the in a letter received today by the Reg- honored guests at a monster recepister from Lieutenant William E. tion which has been prepared by the Berry, a former officer of the regiment, now stationed at Camp Lee, Va. The letter, dated April 15, reads

"I am writing this to show the appreciation and feelings I have for the Santa Ana boys who served with the 354th Infantry, and these who had the misfortune to be transferred to fill other organizations. And in this connection make special mention of the boys in the supply company, which includes Sergeants Platt, Stevens, Collins, and others.

"The supply company was a wonderful organization, due to the great leadership of Captain Rolling, the commanding officer, and to the manhood of the soldiers of that organization, the kind of manhood that has made the great West what it is today. "I was the first enlisted man assigned to the supply company when it was first organized in September, 1917, and served with it until I received my commission in June, 1918. Being its First sergeant until I went to officers' training school, I am in a position to know the men intimately and can appreciate what the boys have done and can do. I met the their return from France, and it was the same old bunch, the same old loyal, peppery, and 'rough and ready' bunch. Most of the boys deserved commissions as officers, and I was told by Captain Rolling that some of the Santa Ana boys, including Sergeants Platt and Stevens, had been recommended, but, of course, the signing of the armistice prevented the appointments. "I know that the Santa Ana people will welcome all of their boys home as no other town has done or can do, and that the men, or the most of them, will return to their old jobs which are no doubt waiting for them. So in this connection I want to say that you will find them better men for their experience in this great war; that they have been tried in the most trying and difficult circum-stances and not found wanting. Give them your hands and hearts and make them feel that you are as proud of them as you really are, and as I am, and as we can justly be, for to be proud of real men from your own community is an honor.

"Sincerely, "First Lieutenant Infantry, U.S.A. Supply Officer."

leads to blood-poisoning

Scratching that inflamed surface does not relieve the irritation-it increases the pain. The finger-nails often carry dangerous micro-organisms—infection sets in—blood-poisoning may be the result. Avoid such a calamity by anointing the sore spot with Resinol Ointment, cleansing it occasionally with Resinol Soap and warm water.

On first application the itching usually disappears entirely and the trouble quickly clears up if treated consistently. At all drug stores. Write Resinol, Baltimore, Md., for free samples.

Appeal to Zoology

A woman recently selecting a hat at a milliner's asked, cautiously:

"Is there anything about these feathers that might bring me into trouble with the Bird Protection Society?' "O, no. madam," said the milliner.

"O. no. madam," said the milliner.

"But did they not beoing to some bird?" persisted the lady.

"Well, madame," returned the milliner, pleasantly, "these feathers are the feathers of a howl, and the howl, you know, madam, seein as ow fond he is of mice, is more of a cat than a bird."—London Tid-Bits.

The first five innings were a pitchers' attle, with Callahan of Santa Ana ahead in the number of men struck out. The only run during that period was scored by Allee, Riverside's crack pill artist, who slammed 'er over the fence for a home run in the second frame. Except for the score being one-sided, it was an interesting affair. Here's the score:
